BACK TO NORMAL

HELLO and welcome everyone to our third meeting of the year. Last month was a very good meeting with 17 players and singers attending to entertain everyone. There was a slight change to The Silver Shadows as Brian could not make the evening but we had a couple of members who very ably stood in for Brian. John Boulden and Terry Bryant were the gentlemen who stood in and they did a very good job indeed! Thank you both for helping out. It is back to normal tonight with the usual “all-star” line-up!

The evening went very well indeed with a vast array of talent playing for our entertainment. John Cade with his fabulous sounding 1960s Strat was his usual brilliant self as was Derek Misselbrook with his latest creation: a Strat he made that is the Rolls Royce of all Strats. Take a look at it and you will see what I mean! Derek builds guitars as a hobby and if you would like one made for you to your specifications have a word with him. I am sure he will be more than happy to build one for you.

One now for the technos. Have you ever noticed the difference in the volumes of the guitars when the players use them? Some are quiet and some are louder. I know some players change their pick-ups to a different spec. but the average Strat pick-ups vary so much. Some players “pluck” harder than others but you put, say, 12 basic as-bought Strats in a row and get the same player to play the same riff or tune on them they will invariably sound different. Not being technically minded I know I am on dangerous ground here and no doubt someone can tell me why this is so! Just listen to John Cade’s 1960s Strat and then a modern one.... what a difference in sound! I love the sound of John’s guitar personally.

There are some other very interesting guitars that turn up at our meetings one of which is the Burns Apache of Bob Withrington. That has a very unique sound as well. Dave Borley has a “road worn” Strat which is a new one but has that 1960s sound to it as well. The band have occasionally used their Burns Marvin guitars and they also have a different sound again. I love as certain guitars sound great for certain tunes. Bruce Welch commented on his visit to us last April how much technology has moved on and players can now reproduce the authentic sound of The Shadows so much easier. All the equipment is there for you if you do your homework. I still have a Watkins Copycat in perfect working order and when I was using it years ago I thought it was the business. Now I have a Yamaha Magic Stomp with the Charlie Hall “Echoes From The Past” patches installed and I use a Roland XL80 Cube amp the sound is as near as I could expect to The Shadows. Not a lot of money spent here but you could then go up a couple of notches (price-wise) and get an Alesis Q2 or Q20 and a modern Vox AC30 and you are in business with a little bit of fiddling about. It would be nice to hear from other players what they use for their sound.
